The Life of Schwenksville At A Glance

Foreword

When the white man first came upon Montgomery County, it was blanketed by an awe-inspiring primeval forest. Trees towered a hundred or more feet high, with some of their massive trunks measuring ten or more feet in diameter. Here and there a small clearing could be found in the midst of the vast forest, burned out perhaps by the Indians to provide room for grazing game. But everywhere else was the great, dark forest.

Today, in our area, the remains of some of these forests can still be seen. Since our school is situated within this woodland setting, we can compare our years at Schwenksville High School to the life of a tree.

When a tiny seed is planted, it has the possibility of becoming a sturdy mature tree, but unless it is provided with enough rain, sunshine and minerals it will not grow properly and may easily be bent or broken by a strong wind or storm. Also, the young shoot must be protected from these harsh forces until it reaches maturity, or it may be destroyed.

During the years that we are in high school, we are just receiving these valuable materials which will allow us to enter the adult life without fear of breaking under the responsibility and opposition we may need to face. Every aspect of school, whether it be studies, sports, clubs, or other activities, contributes to the strength and firmness of our roots and therefore to our success in life.

As seniors we are now ready to test the stability of our roots. We hope that all of you who are still involved in this maturing process will endeavor to obtain all of the necessary materials required for complete growth so that you will be strong, responsible adult citizens in the future.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1966, dedicate our Lanconian to one who has devoted much of his time and service to us during his four-year period at Schwenksville High School. He has enlightened our path through the field of science. As our junior class advisor, he provided guidance and leadership. He contributes his talents to the coaching staff of the football and basketball teams. For these, and countless other reasons, we, the Class of 1966, wish to dedicate this yearbook to Edward M. Stein.

ADMINISTRATION

All work is as seed sown; it grows and spreads, and sows itself.

Thomas Carlyle

Our supervising principal, Mr. Robert Cope, resides in Chetwin Farms, a lovely community of houses not far from his duties at Schwenksville. As a member of the Religious Society of Friends, he attends the Schuylkill meeting in Phoenixville. Mrs. Cope serves as an elementary teacher in our school system. Mr. and Mrs. Cope are the parents of two daughters. Esther is currently studying for her Ph.D. degree at Bryn Mawr, while Anne is a junior at the University of Pennsylvania.

Before he arrived at Schwenksville in 1953, Mr. Cope served as a teacher and guidance director at Kennett Consolidated School, Kennett Square, Pa. He has received a B.A. and an M.S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. In addition, Mr. Cope has taken graduate courses for his Doctor of Education degree.

Mr. Cope's main interest is the educational system of the Schwenksville Union School District, but he does find time for his hobby of photography.

Kathryn Wismer, Executive Secretary.

Ruth Hufnagle, Secretary.

Mr. Thomas P. Henry, our high school principal, resides in Red Hill with his wife and son. His son, Thomas Scott, is a senior at Upper Perkiomen High School where he is active in football and president of the Student Council. Mr. Henry is a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Red Hill. Long before Mr. Henry thought of teaching at Schwenksville, he was a student at East Greenville High School where he participated in all sports. Then he majored in political science at Ursinus College where he received a B.A. degree. During World War II he served as an executive officer on a submarine chaser in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. His career at Schwenksville began in 1946, when he taught social studies and driver training. In 1954 Mr. Henry became high school principal. As a result of graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania, he received an M.S. degree.

Mr. Henry's duties at school keep him busy, but he does find time for reading and hunting.

This has been a very industrious year for the class of '68. We started by electing class officers. At the same time, orders for class rings were being taken.

After that came the work of getting a dance organized. The class decided on the name "Wonderland By Night."

About mid-way through the school year we held our sophomore class assembly. It was a smashing success.

We, the class of 1968, would like to wish the seniors the best of luck in the future.

Growing in Strength and Wisdom . . . They Fight Their Way to Maturity

The class of 1967 began its Junior year with the election of class officers. The first class function was the Junior assembly. The assembly was approached in an original way, and the teachers did not find their portrayals too derogatory. Throughout the entire year, the Juniors were eagerly represented on the various sports teams. In the few weeks preceding Easter, the Juniors flooded the countryside with their candy sales. As the school year neared its end, they prepared for their Junior-Senior Prom.

Captain Ed Roman.

The 1965 Bluebirds, hampered by early injuries to key players, finished with a winless record. Lack of depth and experience was also against the team. Many times less than twenty players suited up for a game. Five seniors, Ed Roman, team captain, Bob Clark, Woody Hunsicker, Rex Saul, and Rex Graham, tried in vain to lead the young team to a victory, but the offense was able to score only 37 points in seven games, while the defense gave up 282 points. The scoring was done by Bob Clark, Rex Graham, and Stanley Trump. Bob Clark was selected on the All-Intercounty League team as a defensive back, and Ed Roman was chosen on the All-League Team as offensive center.

Our League Champs Never Swayed Under Pressure.

Champs! This year, for the first time in eleven years, the girls varsity hockey team won the league championship. Guided by a new coach this year, Mrs. Marion Scullin, the team ended the year with a record of 4-1-0. Leading scorers on the winning team were Linda Hefner with 6 goals, Linda Boyer with 4, and Nancy Beltz and Mary Gebler with one each.

The junior varsity also ended the season with a fine record of 3-1-1. Seniors on these championship teams included: Marcia Jamison (co-captain), Mary Gebler, Marie Jamison, Linda Bauman, Chris Miller, Debbi Leavenworth, and Jean Mohn. Congratulations, Hockey Team, on a Championship season.

Lacking height, the junior high varsity was able to gain only one victory in six games, but they did have many close games, the closest being a 37-36 heartbreaking loss to undefeated Bridgeport. The boys played well, and if they gain a little more experience, S.H.S. can look forward to a fine team in the future. Alan Croasdale and Barry Trievel led their team in scoring with 40 and 39 points respectively.

The junior high J.V. quintet was less fortunate than their varsity, for they were not able to get a victory, but they displayed spirit and potential for the future. Danny Snyder led the team in scoring with an impressive 49 point total and an 8.2 average.

J.V. Basketball Champs

The young Bluebirds showed great promise for the future as they ended a successful season. After winning the opener at Exeter, they dropped their next three games in non-league battles. When the league games started, they showed their potential by posting a 3 and 1 record after four games, but like the varsity, they dropped two in a row. Dennis Weidemoyer led the team in rebounding and scoring. Don Meng and Dean Robison assisted under the boards, while Harvey Cook, Glen Ickes, and Tim Huels took care of the guard duties.

With one of the best teams in years, the well-balanced Bluebirds made their bid for a long awaited I-C crown. In a compressed league of four Class C schools, the competition was equalized, but the team was scheduled for only four non-league tilts. After losing three of those pre-season games, the high flying Birds took control of the league with a 3 and 1 log, losing only on the primitive Bridgeport floor. Co-Captains, Carl Cook and Bob Clark, led their team in scoring and rebounding. Juniors Ron Clark and Jim Weaver assisted with their all-around playing, while Ray Weygand, Don Bechtel, and Joe Maziarz handled the guard duty. After an exciting first four games, the team dropped two in a row putting them in second place, two games behind Jenkintown. It looked as though the chance for a championship was shattered.

Both of our girls' teams fought with a great deal of determination. Mrs. Scullin's vigorous physical fitness program made the girls top opponents for any school. While the J.V. showed a great deal of potential, it was our Varsity that put forth a tremendous effort toward victory with the hope of bringing home the trophy. They tied for first place.

Jump high, girls.

If a student does not play scholastic sports, Schwenksville offers a fine intramural program. Under the guidance of Mr. High and Mrs. Scullin, together with the boy and girl officials, students from grades 7 through 12 may participate in a variety of sports.

An Array of Ribbons ... Crowned This Day

The arrival of spring at Schwenksville was welcomed by the annual May Day celebration. The field festivities were under way after our beautiful queen, Diane Kirkner, was crowned by Mr. Carfagno. Miss Kirkner's court included: 7th grade: L. Douglas and L. Fryer; 8th grade: S. Ott and C. Ziegler; 9th grade: G. Miller and L. Boyer; 10th grade: N. Smith and F. Reifsneider; 11th grade: N. In the senior high competition, the seniors took all honors with 89 points. The Class of '67 beat the class of '66 with a sophomore total of 38 points. The juniors scored 34 total points.

The Junior High results were: 9th grade, 111 points; 8th grade, 35 points; and 7th grade, 16 points.

Two points for the teachers.

A very enjoyable event of the 1965 school year was the Student-Faculty Sports Night. The seniors were placed in competition against the teachers to provide a night of fun and laughter for all. The colorful and interesting outfits of the players, increased the overwhelming reception by the audience. The riotous actions and maneuvers of the players also received loud cheers from the attending crowd. The evening seemed to be appreciated by both participants and spectators.

Homecoming Queen Welcomes Alumni

The first football game is a big occasion for the Schwenksville football fans. This day marks the homecoming of all Schwenksville students. The Homecoming Queen this year was Debbi Leavenworth, attended by Ruth Sullivan, Marie Jamison, Mary Gebler and Kathy Hefner. That evening a dance, sponsored by the Student Council, was held in honor of the queen and her court. The gym was decorated in the school colors of blue and white. All those attending the football game and dance had a joyous time.

Final Dances For the Seniors

Bev is really in the Christmas spirit.

"Wonderland By Night," the Sophomore dance, was presented for grades nine to twelve on December 11, 1965. The gymnasium was filled with miniature replicas depicting the holiday season. These included a typical family room at Christmas time and a little country church. Every couple in attendance enjoyed this yuletide festivity.

Chosen as the title for the senior dance was the name of "Autumn Leaves." Pumpkins and scarecrows helped to make the atmosphere of autumn a realistic one. With Halloween approaching, the decorations fit the mood to a T. All of those in attendance enjoyed the evening's festivities.

Calvalcade of Hearts

This year's Valentine Dance presented by the Pep Club was called "Calvalcade of Hearts." The gymnasium was decorated with pink and white crepe paper in accordance with the theme. Hearts, cupids, and flowers were in evidence everywhere. Another fabulous pep rally is under way.

A favorite entry in the talent assembly was John Kelly.

Assemblies of the '65-'66 school year provided enjoyment for everyone. Pep rallies, which are our most predominant type of assembly, filled our sports seasons. The cheerleaders, by coming up with a cheer which is accentuated by rhythmic motions, allowed not only for vocal audience participation, but also for active participation on the rally floor. The English Department presented a new type of assembly in the form of a College Bowl contest between classes. It went over so well that a second assembly of this type was held. An extra touch was added to our Christmas assembly as a Swedish Sankta Lucia ceremony was presented by Ulla and some girls in the chorus. Amid a flare of rockets, a very confident representative of the Space-mobile presented an entertaining assembly to the student body. Bigger and better assemblies are still in the making, such as Ulla's slide assembly, the well-liked talent assembly, and the class assemblies. All this and more our students have awaiting them in the following months.

Student Representation

The Student Council has proven very active this year. Starting the year, they began planning for a successful Homecoming Dance. Again this year sweatshirt orders were taken, and two new sales items, shakers and megaphones, were added to the school store. For the second straight year, the Student Council has sponsored a foreign exchange student. Throughout the year it has contributed to this fund by the profits from such projects as Christmas tree tags, tag days, and the dance after the C-T game.

Newspaper Club

Our students eagerly await the publication of their monthly newspaper, "Dateline S.H.S." Miss Smedley and Mrs. Tompkins supervise its publication by heading the Newspaper Club. Each club member hopes that by preparing this paper he will acquire a good understanding of journalism and a "newsy" outlook.

Yearbook Club

This group of seniors spent the year preparing a book of memories, activities, and education, tying a bond of dedication and gratitude to the administration, faculty, student body, and classmates. Under the supervision of Mr. Graber, the members gradually witnessed their efforts and talents form a year book, a treasure for each person in any senior class.

The theme, layouts, planning, photography, write-ups, typing and hard work will be illustrated each time the book is opened. Like all books, the cover only encloses the pages, not the story.

Photography Clubs

In Photography Club the members have been learning to take, develop, and print pictures and to use the school's audio-visual equipment properly. Each year this club undertakes the enormous task of supplying the pictures for the yearbook. They also keep a pictorial record of school activities so that they may be used in public relations work and for local newspapers.

F.T.A.

Throughout the year, the members of the Future Teachers of America Club studied the qualities and skills that are essential for successful teaching. With Mrs.

Riccio as their director, the students were given the opportunity to practice their chosen vocation by teaching some elementary classes.

Forum Club

Mr. Romasco says, "The club belongs to the kids . . . I'm only the advisor." The members of this club are the speaking body for S.H.S., representing S.H.S. at Rotary Clubs, Lions Clubs, and other schools. The members build vocabulary, conquer speech disabilities, and discuss ideas and solutions for world affairs. These students plan to enter the adult world with confidence.

Hunter Safety Club

Under the direction of Mr. Eurich, the students in Hunter Safety Club learn and put to use the proper care of firearms and the handling of ammunitions. These students become familiar with the laws in regard to hunting and carrying of firearms. In addition to learning the rules of hunting, the club also studies the kinds of archery equipment, trapping, disposal of furs, fly fishing, fly tying, plug (bait) casting, types of plugs and lures, and tree identification. Tree identification includes the uses and conservation of trees. Wildlife habitat is also studied as a close to the school year.

Golf Club

Under the direction of Mr. Mikolaitis, the members of the Golf Club have been learning the fundamentals of golfing. During the winter months they studied the rules and etiquette of the game. In the spring, on the Rolling Turf Golf Course, they hope to practice what they have learned throughout the year. Also, they plan to hold an indoor putting tournament for club members.

Our Protectors of Safety

The Safety Patrol, under the guidance of Mr. Budnovitch and leadership of Captain Ed Roman, again kept the accident slate clean. It has been many a year since any accident involving one of our students has occurred. Some of our invaluable members, during the fall, winter, and spring, braving all types of weather, help elementary pupils cross the streets safely. Others courteously keep elementary pupils orderly on the buses. A cheer should be given to all who belong to this organization.

Dramatics Clubs

Under the leadership of Mrs. Girdwood the Dramatics Club has been busy throughout the year discussing techniques and types of dramatics and performing plays in the elementary school. Their big event of the year is their spring trip to Philadelphia to witness professional actors and actresses in action.

Miss Pascucci supervises the Jr. High Dramatics Club. These young people gain self-assurance and poise through this training and have the satisfaction of successfully giving performances of their own. In the spring they will attend a play in Philadelphia to broaden their dramatic insights.

Westward the course of empire takes its way; The four first acts already past.

The program for the Jr. High Dramatics Club closely resembles that of the Sr. High Dramatics Club, for members are taught poise, useful not only on the stage, but as a contributing and influential factor upon entering a more social life in senior high school.

Pep Club

Pep Club has sponsored many projects in the past and has many planned for the future for the purpose of raising school spirit. They are responsible for the many signs and posters throughout the halls that praise our athletes and call for the students to support the team. In the past, they have sponsored dances, buses to the games, and, recently, sold fortune cookies.

Display Club

With the supervision of Mrs. Shaffer, the Display Club helps to make the school more attractive. Members of the display club have supplied the school with many creative themes for events such as American Education Week, baseball season, football season, basketball season, Christmas, Easter, May Day, and Graduation.

The Way To a Man's Heart

With Mrs. Weaver as Supervisor, the Future Homemakers Club gives its female members a chance to practice some of those skills that they will need to use some day. Each Wednesday the aroma of their cooking pervades the halls near the home economics room to the delight of anyone passing that way.

In addition to the Future Homemakers Club, Mrs. Weaver also sponsors Boys Chef Club, whose purpose it is to give the male members of our student body a chance to practice the culinary arts. Every Monday the boys get a chance to express themselves in the form of the delights they make (and eat).

Girls Officials Club

Mrs. Scullin keeps the ladies in her Officials Club working by officiating, timing, and scoring all intramural sports. Conquering the rules of hockey and basketball are two of the club members' outstanding goals. The girls develop a fuller understanding of game rules, but the main purpose is to help their peers improve their levels of skill.

They Serve Us Faithfully

Cafeteria: Norma Mohn, Pat Clark, Peg Rawn.

Our cooks preparing one of their special lunchtime dishes.

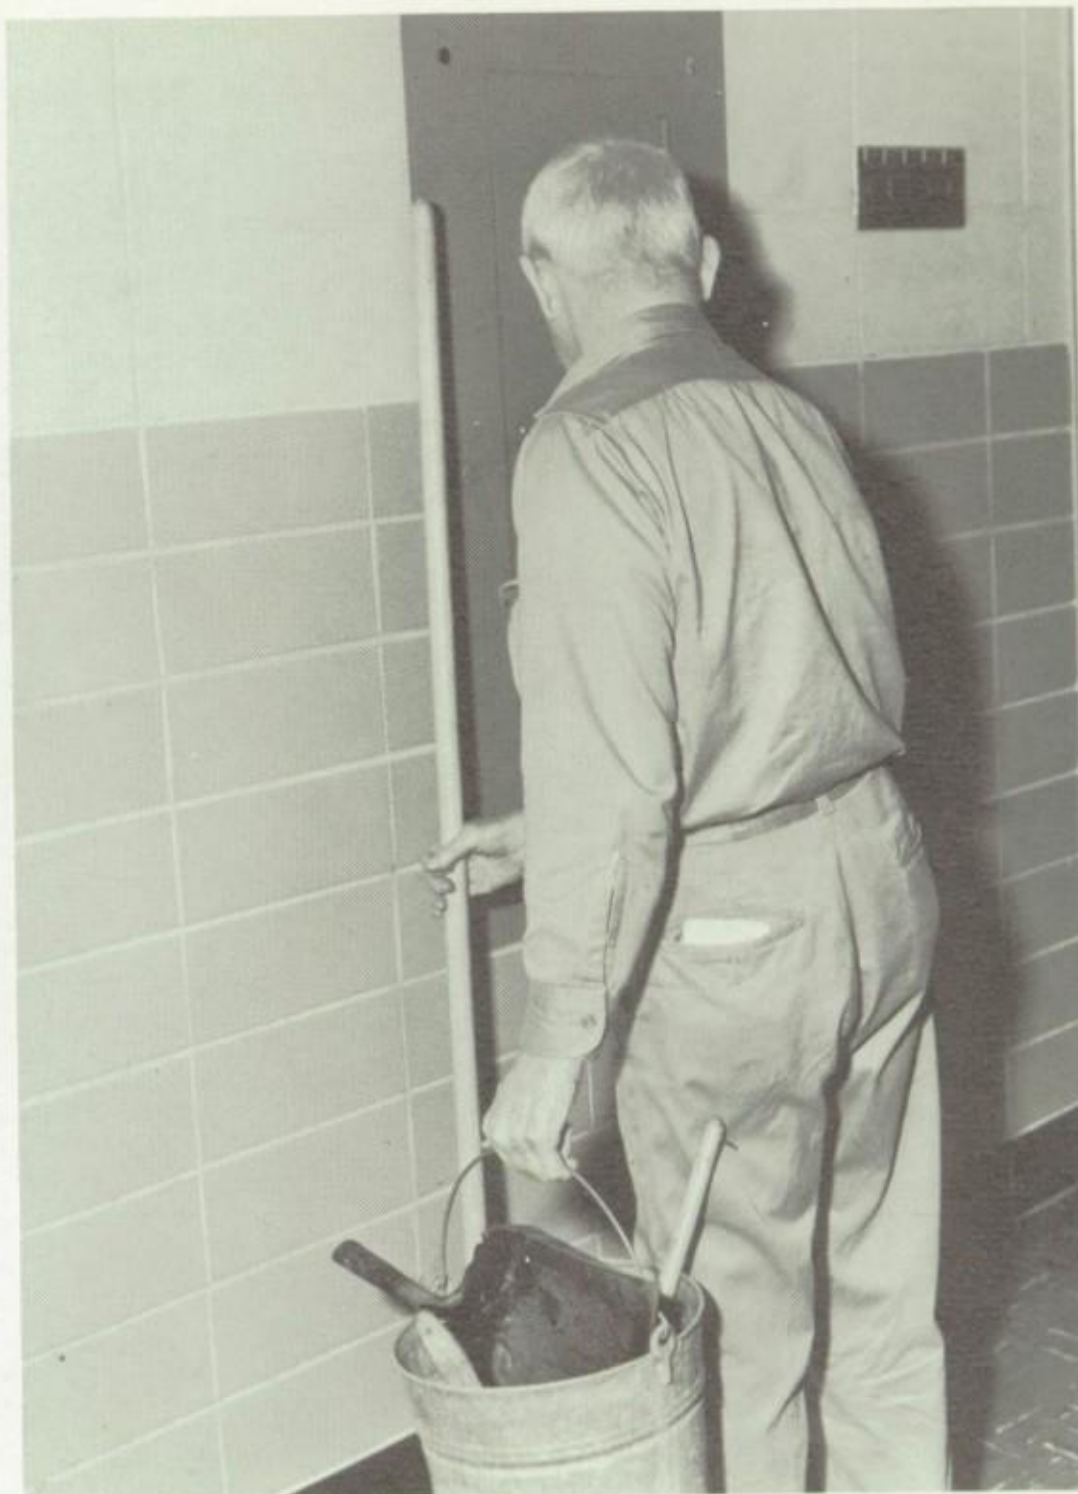

Janitors: Donald Kehs, Todd Young, Russell Friel, Walter Hodacz, Irvin Knerr, Chief custodian.

Bus Drivers: James Sacks, Bill Balliet, Bob Sine, John Markley, Miles Robbins, John Hanlon, Bill Hogeagey.

Russ Friel hard at work with his endless duties.

These three groups, the janitors, cafeteria staff, and bus drivers, are very essential to the successful functioning of our school. They work long and hard, often without much recognition. The janitors have a full-time job trying to keep the school looking nice while some students feel it necessary to make sure there is always something for them to clean up. The cafeteria workers spend a lot of time planning and preparing meals that are not only nutritious but also appealing to the appetite. No matter what the weather, if school is open, the bus drivers have to go out and pick up their passengers and transport them safely to and from school. We salute these three capable groups.

A Tree Grows in Schwenksville — Our Educational Program

All students from grades seven to twelve receive benefits from the Guidance Department. A broad testing program is provided for students of all grades. The supervision of course selections is carried out through homeroom teachers under the direction of the Guidance Department. Mr. Weaver schedules frequent interviews with students for educational and vocational planning, for course selection, and for checking academic progress.

Our math department offers courses to please almost any student, whether his interests lie in business, college, or some other area. Business math, algebra, trigonometry, geometry, and general math comprise the available math courses.

Safe driving habits are very important in this busy world of ours. Many accidents occur because of negligence on the part of careless drivers. Driver training class prepares young drivers by teaching road courtesy, basic operations of a car, traffic laws, a sense of responsibility, and also an elementary understanding of the parts of the car. For example, we all know how to change a flat tire.

Industrial Arts Shop gives the students a chance to express in wood, plastic and other mediums what they design in mechanical drawing. Every thing from gun racks to napkin holders can be found in various stages of development throughout the shop.

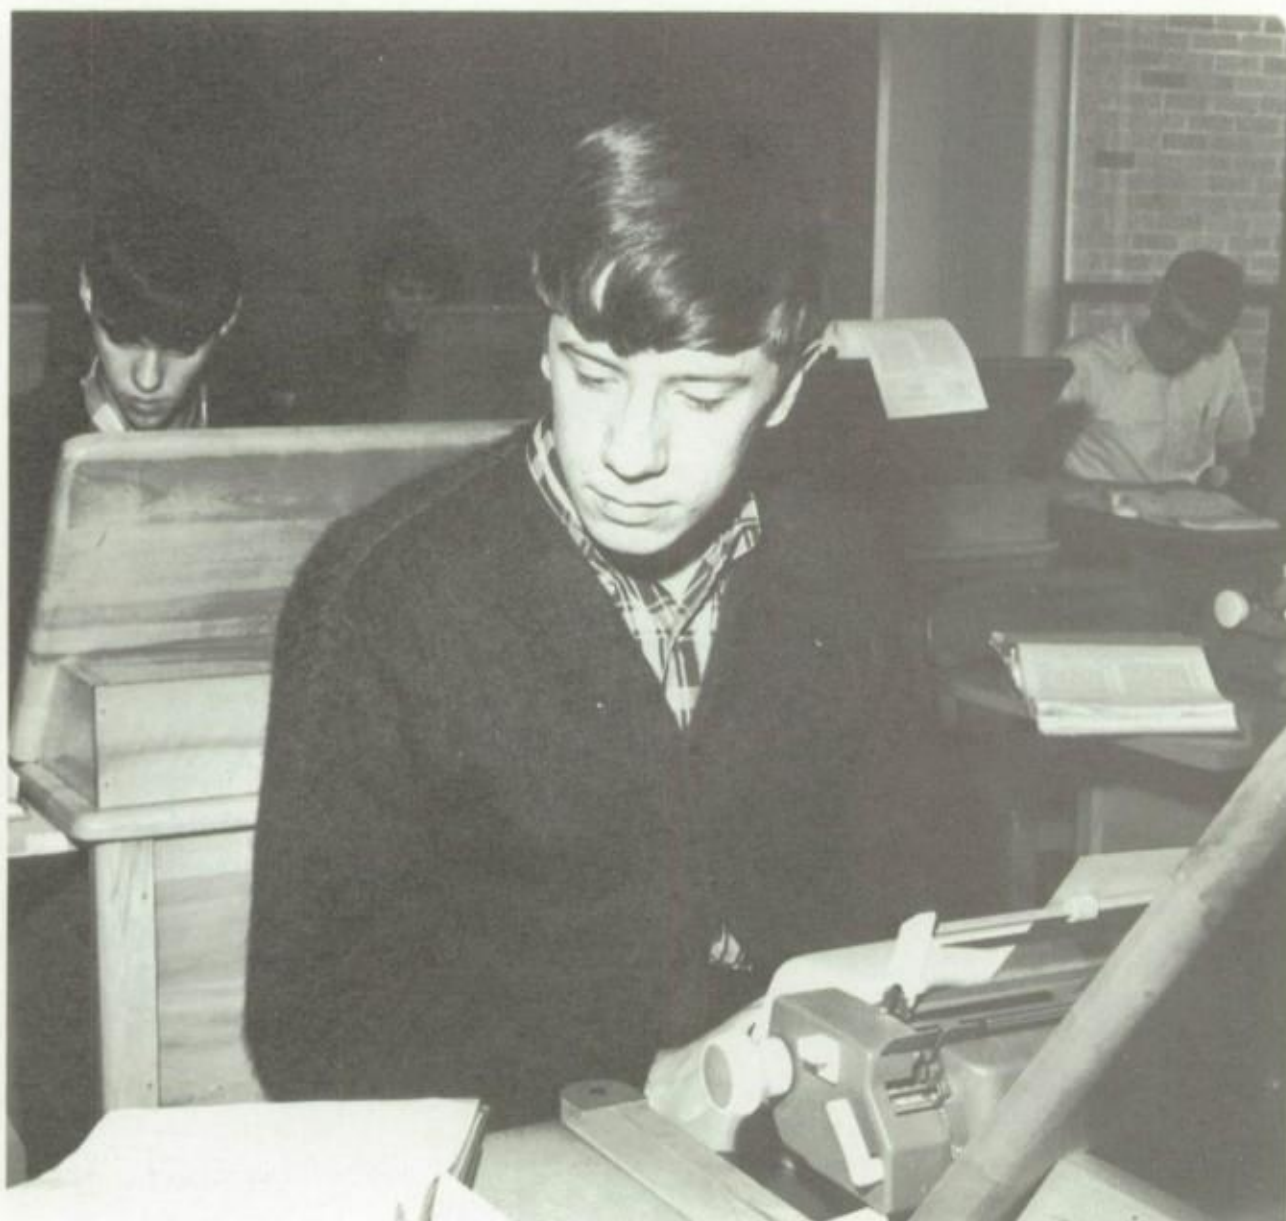

Bookkeeping is the art of recording business transactions in a regular and systematic manner. There is nothing mysterious about the subject, but it has many ramifications. The students at S.H.S. work diligently studying journals, ledgers, and balance sheets.

Every girl must know how to run a household smoothly if she expects to have a happy life as a wife and a mother. Our Home Economics course tries to prepare the girls for the responsibilities that they will have to face in the future. This course covers everything from planning a meal to knitting a sweater with the hope that the girls enjoy their lessons while learning the basics of home-making.

We Grow in Wisdom

At Schwenksville typing is not only a basic subject for our Business majors, but it is also offered to future college students. Typing makes it very easy for students to produce reports which have a professional look, and it finds a useful place in everyone's education.

The students can develop their skills with the guidance of Mrs. Shaffer. Portions of the curriculum include studying art history, making sketchbooks of ancient sculpture, and drawing five figures or sketching outdoor scenes.

Our musically inclined students enjoy this subject; however, all students are exposed to this subject with the hope that they will develop a cultural interest. You do not have to be a great singer to enjoy the pleasant sound of a record or to discover how some of our popular songs have developed through the years.

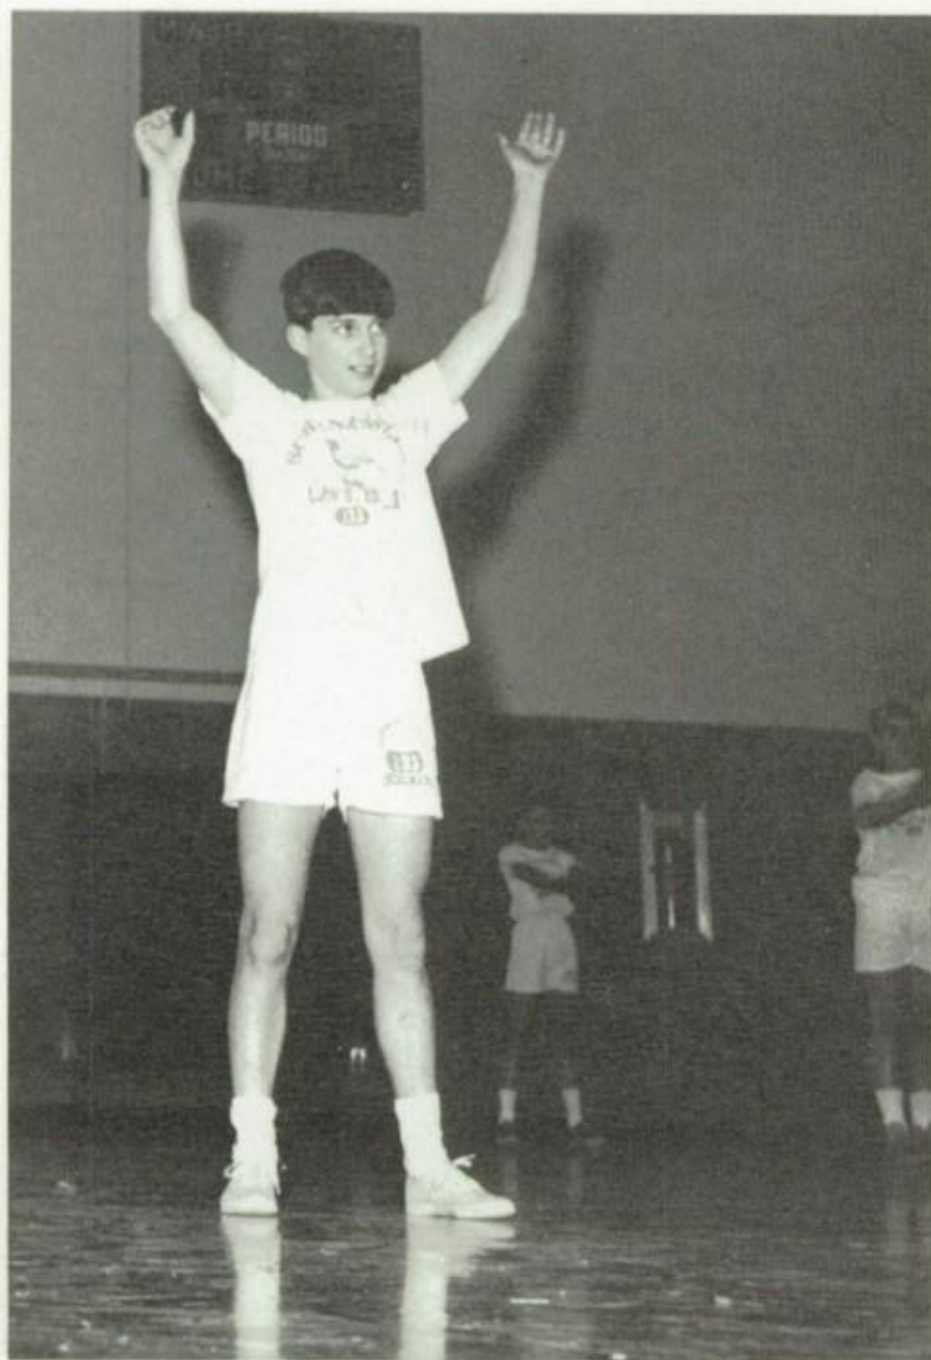

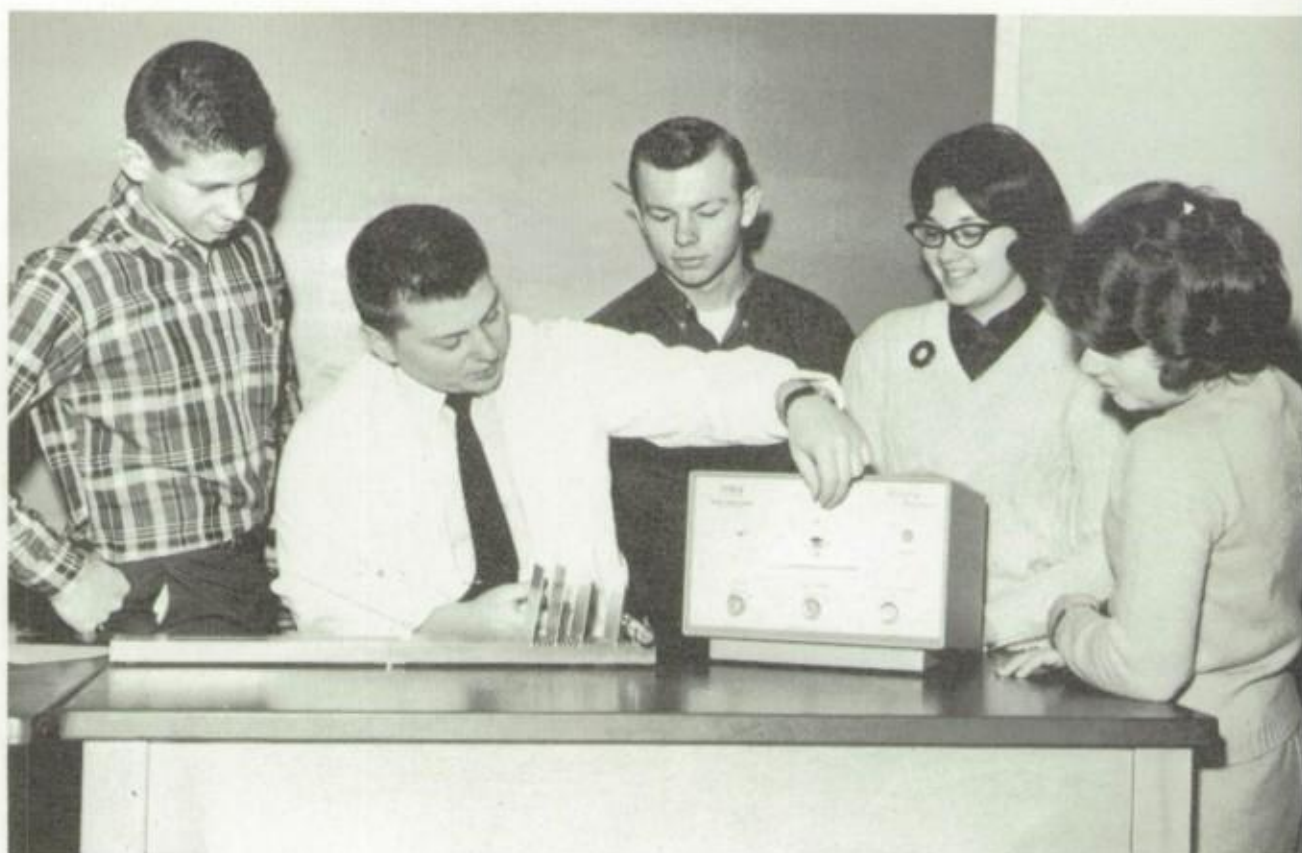

A combination of basic skills are need in the Shorthand class: good English usage, spelling accuracy, typing, and a speedy hand at writing shorthand forms. The class is geared to teach efficiency and proficient work habits for future secretaries. Among the new innovations are transcription practice from recordings and up-to-date reference manuals for the modern secretary.

We are quite proud of the library's wide range of reference material and interesting reading. It is relatively easy to find any subject quickly by referring to the subject file at our disposal. Occupation pamphlets, a periodical room, recordings of stories, plays, poetry, and folk music are on hand for the use of eager students.

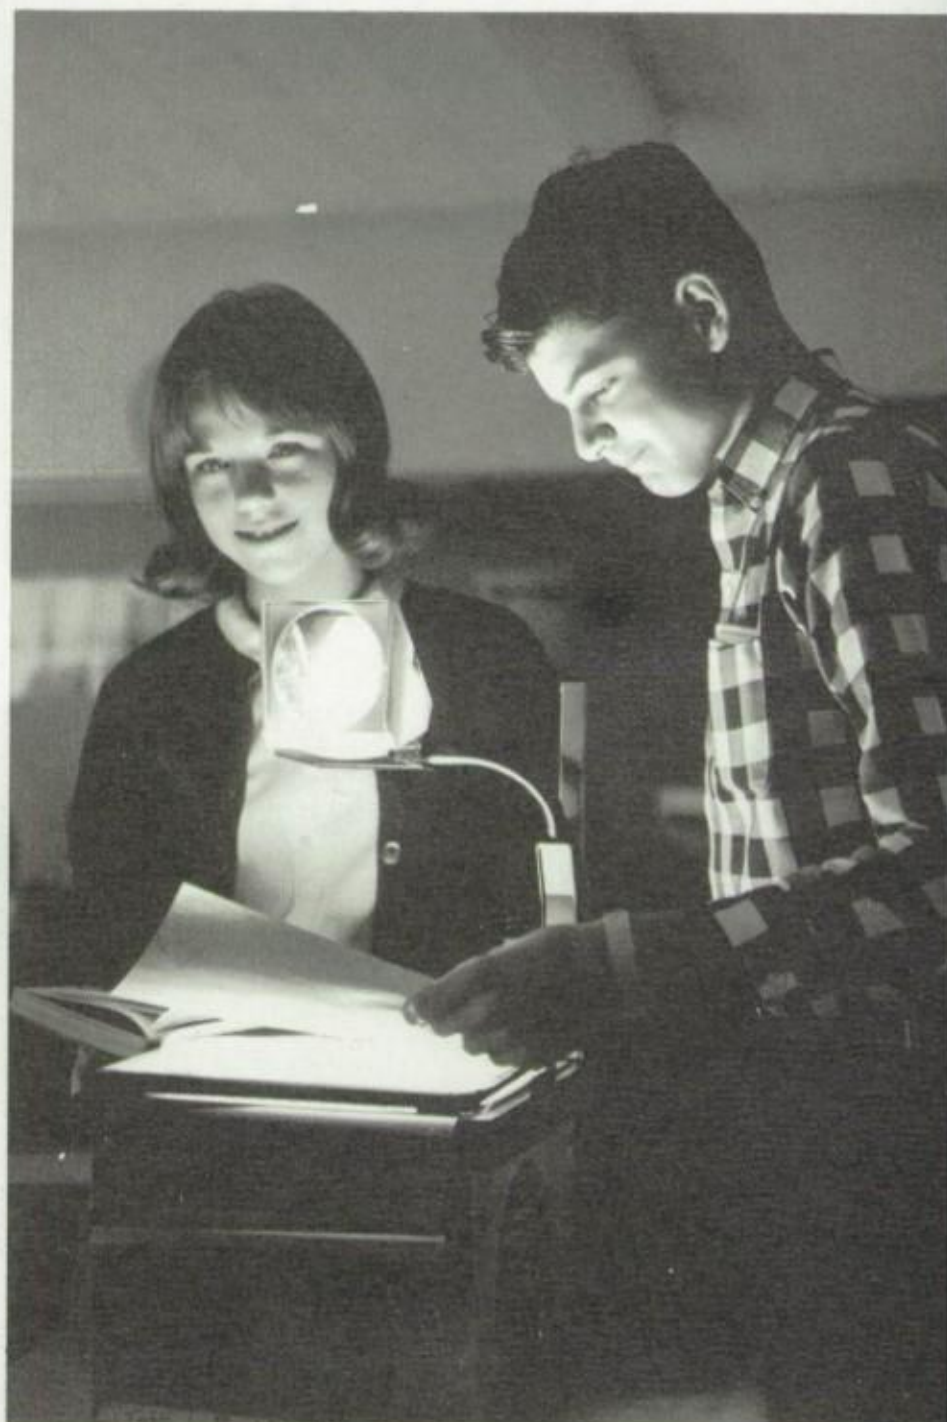

Everything from Avogadro's number to Bernoulli's principle is familiar to our students of science. Each year our students have available to them some science course, whether it is General Science, Earth and Space, Biology, Chemistry, or Physics.

This year-round program provides both outdoor and indoor sports. The physical education classes meet twice weekly with forty-five minutes of strenuous physical activity each period. In keeping with the national trends, physical fitness is stressed.

English classes encompass literature, composition, grammar and reading. The students have a chance to improve their reading ability through the use of reading labs and to read everything from Great Expectations to Hamlet.

The past and the present are studied in all of the social studies classes. Much emphasis is placed on ideas and concepts rather than on names and dates. Instructors enhance the classes by providing interesting comments which stimulate sharp debate.

German and Latin are the two foreign languages available at Schwenksville. German provides an opportunity to look into the German way of thought through their language, while Latin gives an insight into one of the ancestors of our own language.

The curriculum in health classes includes the study of body functions, relations with others, and first aid. The discussions, directed by informed instructors, will be helpful in meeting life's problems.

MEMORIES

Bliss in possession will not last;
Remembered joys are never past;
At once the fountain, stream, and sea,
They were, they are, they yet shall be.

Our Record of Growth

Early in September of 1962, we started to form a solid foundation in our freshman year. Everyone was pleased with the success of our magazine campaign and field day tallies. We had begun the long stretch that would be the most important of our school years. As Sophomores, we became an organized group under the leadership of capable officers: Bobby Clark, President; Carl Cook, Vice-President; Ruth Sullivan Secretary; Joan Minford, Treasurer. Our record-breaking candy sale gave a boost to our growing treasury. Orders for class rings were taken. December came and we gained the experience of working hard together to make the dance, "Our Winter Love," an unforgettable one. Reaching toward the sky for added growth, we stretched higher to the junior year. Realizing the importance of good organization, class officers were chosen at once. Bobby Clark was unanimously elected as our President for a second year; Carl Cook, Vice-President; Ruth Sullivan, Secretary; Sue Freeman, Treasurer. One of the big events of our Junior year was writing and directing our own assembly. Many hours were spent on this project, but it was well worth it. For our second event, the junior dance, which we christened "Irish Fantasy," we decorated the gym as a green Leprechaunland. Our Easter candy sale gave us added experience in working together as a group. Our chance to prove our creativity and ingenuity came at last with the Junior-Senior Prom, "Rio Tara," named after the plantation in Gone With The Wind. It was really a big job to tackle. The patience and help of Mr. Stein and Mr. Keenan were really appreciated at this time. All who attended were captivated by the Southern mood created by the garden luncheon setting, by a stern-paddle wheel, and by the music of an orchestra situated on the stage, which was decorated as a plantation manor. We ended our season's growth by presenting the Class of '65 with a farewell garland and singing a special song for them in hope that they all meet with success. At last we reached our full growth as Seniors. Many activities were accomplished . . . Christmas card sales, our autumn dance, our senior play, a trip to Washington, and graduation.

A Night at The Rio Tara

Rex and Ed congratulate themselves upon the completion of the Showboat.

The highlight of our junior year was the 1965 Junior-Senior Prom, appropriately called "Rio Tara," after the plantation in Gone With The Wind. Hours of preparation, under the direction of chairman Mary Gebler, went into transferring the grandeur of the Old South to our gymnasium.

The pink showboat and the typical plantation scene were a special delight to all. Barbara Albright, after being crowned by the president of our class, Robert Clark, christened the showboat, the Barbara Belle. White lawn furniture and many beautiful flowers completed the picture for a perfect prom.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

I only know that creeds to me
Are but new names for mystery,
That good is good from east to west,
And more I do not know nor need
To know, to love my neighbor well.

Two Girls Who Brightened Our Year

This year at Schwenksville High School, the class of 1966 was very fortunate to have two foreign students. Our official foreign exchange student was Ulla Linden from Angelholm, Sweden. During her stay here she resided at the homes of Mr. Franklin Renninger and Mr. Walter Beltz. Ulla, full of typical Swedish spirit, joined in many of our activities. She exhibited much skill in basketball and played on the team. At Christmas, Ulla presented us with the beautiful ceremony of Sankta Lucia, accompanied by the mixed chorus to which she belongs. We sincerely hope Ulla enjoyed her year with us in America.

Ulla and Mike at Ed Roman's summer outing.

Ulla is an excellent stationary guard on our basketball team.

Both of our foreign students delight at the sound of music.

Mike in her beautiful native costume.

Our second foreign student was Mayuko Ueta from Sendai, Japan. She was sponsored by the Heidelberg Reformed Church. Mike, as all her friends came to call her, stands a mere 4'11" tall. But even though she is small, there is no limit to her talents. She showed great musical talent when she played her guitar for us. We found out very soon where Mike's interests were. She's a horse enthusiast. In Japan she not only rode at a horseback riding club, but owns her own horse. We at SHS hope that Mike enjoyed staying here as much as we liked having her.

In Memory of Fred Rapp

As graduation draws near, our thoughts return to one whom we lost in our sophomore year. Fred's natural and good natured personality will never be forgotten by his classmates. Though life was short for him, he was able to spread warmth wherever he went. We who knew him shall remember him throughout our lives.

The Curious Savage

Through the efforts and hard work of many people, our senior play, "THE CURIOUS SAV-AGE", was a great success. The cast was composed of a marvelous group of "nuts", who although they are charming and quite normal in real life, acted out their parts to the fullest of their theatrical abilities. The month and a half of practice was in great evidence as the play unfolded into a delightful comedy, which had a different but touching ending.

The Hard Fighting Bluebird

Co-captains and leading hitters — Bob Clark and Carl Cook.

The 1965 baseball team fell short of its championship bid. With an impressive record of 8 wins and 4 losses, the Bluebirds finished in 3rd place behind Pottsgrove and league champ Upper Dublin. Individually the team received strong pitching from seniors Ron Fieni (3-1), Larry Levan (2-1), and junior Ray Weygand (3-2). The batting department was led by consistent hitting Den Creter who ended his high school baseball career with a .516 batting average.

Diamond Men

The outlook for the 1966 diamond men of Ted Budnovitch was very hopeful. With a well balanced league of four teams, the S.H.S. nine can be expected to give a strong bid for the I-C championship as did the Bluebird courtmen. Three senior lettermen, Ray Weygand (P), Carl Cook (C), and Bob Clark (1B), form the nucleus of this year's team. After a slow start the Bluebirds finished strongly with a 6-3 record. The team's leading hitters were Bob Clark who batted .395 and Carl Cook who finished with a .408 average.

An Unforgettable Trip

Around 6 A.M. on Wednesday, May 4th, our senior class left for Washington, D.C., where we spent three days which we will always remember. Amid tulips and beautiful weather, we toured our capital, making use of every spare moment so that we could see as many things as possible. One of the highlights of the trip was a concert on Wednesday night which was presented by the Washington National Symphony, and as an added treat Richard Chamberlain was the narrator for the evening. The FBI was another interesting stop of our trip. Here we received an excellent orientation on the FBI from a guide who gave us a wealth of information on this agency which is vital to our country. As souvenirs we were all presented with shells from the various guns used in FBI work. An audience with our Congressman, Richard Schweiker, was also an enjoyable experience. All too soon we were homeward bound, and just as all good things must come to an end, so did our memorable Washington trip.

The girls get their luggage after finally arriving in Washington.

Ed brings out the heavy artillery as he and Carl unpack in their hotel room.

The group is ready for some sightseeing.

Farewell

Assembly

As is the custom at Schwenksville, the seniors bid farewell to the school at their farewell assembly during which the class will be read. This year we presented a few short skits predicting the future status of several seniors, dedicated our Yearbook to Mr. Stein, and handed down our responsibilities to the juniors by presenting them the key of education. The grand finale was the presentation of a beautiful garland prepared by the juniors along with a song first by them and then from us. This program concluded our stay at Schwenksville High School.

Juniors are hard at work on their garland.

Mr. Stein smilingly accepts the yearbook from the class of 1966.

Jim Weaver, president of the class of 1967, receives the key of education from Bob Clark, president of the class of 1966.

The juniors present the garland to the class of 1966.

The seniors sing a final farewell to Schwenksville High School.
